On December 14, 2023, Coleman Professional Services, Inc. learned that an unauthorized user gained access to a few of our employees' email accounts that contained personal information. Based on our investigation, we learned that unauthorized connections were made to the email accounts between September 18, 2023 and October 31, 2023. We were unable to confirm whether any specific emails or attachments stored within the affected email accounts were accessed or obtained as a result of this incident.

However, out of an abundance of caution, emails stored within the affected email accounts were reviewed to determine whether any of those emails contained personal information. The type of personal information involved depended on the personal information that was present in an affected email account. Based on the review, there were some emails that contained different types of personal information such as: first name, last name, date of birth, social security numbers, driver's license numbers, financial information, and, in some cases, health information.

Although we are unaware of any misuse of personal information as a result of this incident, out of an abundance of caution, we are providing identity theft protection services to those impacted and are mailing letters with enrollment information to those individuals. In addition, we've taken steps to block unauthorized users from connecting to the affected email accounts, reset the relevant passwords, reviewed the contents of the emails in the affected email accounts to determine whether they contained personal information, and took additional measures to prevent unauthorized users from accessing employees' email accounts in the future.

If you have questions about this incident, please call 1-866-992-9183 Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Eastern Time, excluding major U.S. holidays.

Further Information and Steps You Can Take

Filing a Police Report for Suspicious Activity

We encourage you to remain vigilant of identity theft or fraud. You should review account statements, explanation of benefits, and credit reports and report any suspicious activity or suspected identity theft. You have the right to file a police report if you experience identity theft or fraud. If you do find suspicious activity of identity theft or fraud, call your local police or sheriff's office and file a police report of identity theft. Get a copy of the police report. You may need to give copies of the police report to creditors to clear up your records. In addition, you should report identity theft to your state's Attorney General and to the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC"). This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

Monitoring Your Accounts

You may obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the credit bureaus once a year by visiting <http://www.annualcreditreport.com>, or calling 877-322-8228. Hearing impaired consumers can access TDD service at 877-730-4104. You may contact the nationwide credit bureaus at:

Equifax, 866-349-5191, P.O. Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374, www.equifax.com/FCRA.

Experian, 888-397-3742, P.O. Box 9701, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com.

TransUnion, 800-916-8800, P.O. Box 2000, Chester, PA 19022, www.transunion.com.

You may also place a fraud alert or security freeze on your credit report at no cost. A fraud alert is a notice that can be placed on a consumer's credit report that alerts companies who may extend credit that the consumer may have been a victim of identity theft or fraud. When a fraud alert is displayed on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. There are two types of fraud alerts: an "initial" fraud alert that lasts for one year, and an "extended" fraud alert for victims of identity theft or fraud that lasts seven years. A fraud alert should not affect your ability to get a loan or credit, but it may cause some delay if you are applying for credit. To place a fraud alert, please contact one of the credit reporting agencies at:

Alternatively, you may place a security freeze on your file. Security freezes will prevent new credit from being opened in your name without the use of a personal identification number or password that will be issued by the credit reporting agencies after you initiate the freeze. In order to place a security freeze, you may be required to provide the credit reporting agencies with information that identifies you. A security freeze can make it more difficult for someone to get credit in your name, but it also may delay your ability to obtain credit. The credit reporting agencies may not charge a fee to place a freeze or remove a freeze. To place a security freeze, please contact one of the agencies at:
